ABSTRACT

A method of recovering overpayment of long-term disability benefits paid to a claimant by a client after the receipt of Social Security disability insurance payment with client interaction. The overpayment recovery service is seamless

5 and provides for preauthorized, automated recovery of overpayments from a claimant's account and increases the percentage collected and reduces collection time over conventional methods. The system allows the client selected computer access to participate in and monitor the progress in the award and recovery of the overpayment.

10

Express Mailing Label No.: EV 383194486 US